The January meeting will be held at Leisure Living Construction 2700 Stone Gate Court in Hiawatha on the 10th. Weather permitting, Greg Ellyson will show us the techniques required to make a three cornered bowl.

Dues Renewal Time 2013 Dues Information

The dues for 2013 remain at the 2012 level, $25.00 for individual and $30 for a family with more than one turner. Those who have paid their dues by the February meeting will go into a pool for a drawing to return the 2013 dues. A $5.00 reduction will be available to those who are AAW members and provide the treasurer with a current valid AAW membership number. The anniversary membership cycles rather than the annual cycles the AAW has adopted has made it impossible for the club to continue to collect the AAW dues along with ours.

Project of the Month

The project of the month will be anything made from wood obtained from the CWT from the Picnic in September through the December meeting.

Last Meeting

The December meeting was held on the 1st of December at the Antioch Christian church with the Corridor Woodcrafters. There were about 60 present and almost, if not all, who attended left with a gift of some type. Joanie West had the highest bid for the lidded vessel made by Harold Rosauer at $140.00.

There were plenty of show and tell items on display as well as a slide show of large items the Woodcrafters created.

There was plenty of food and good times for all who attended. This was a very good venue for the gathering and many thanks go out to John Sandor for his help in arranging the space.

A silverware serving spoon was left at the Christmas party. It will be brought to the January meeting.

From the President

I hope you had a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

The Christmas Party of the Corridor WoodCrafters and the Corridor WoodTurners was attended by more the 65 members, spouses and guests. Members of both clubs presented a vast array of project during the Show and Share portion of the meeting. The projects displayed the depth of skill and knowledge the members. Items were either brought to the site or presented via a video projector, if they were large and not possible to display directly. There were 45+ items give away via raffle to the members and 10 items to the Spouses and guests. Thank you goes out to Acme Tools, BlairsFerry True Value (tool donations), to the members who donated items as well. If you didn't have enough to eat and drink, well we'll just leave it at that! We are looking forward to planning a similar event for 2013.

2013 brings many new challenges for each and every one of us.

My goal is to continue to challenge and educate myself and also others as we meet throughout the year. Little did I know when I was exposed to the wood lathe in Junior High School that I would find woodturning to be the fascination that it holds today. It is not only a hobby but a great outlet for creativity and positive thinking. I hope we can continue to keep our monthly meeting informative, educational and by all means have fun as well!

I am looking forward to new challenges and hearing from you as to what you have learned.

David Kesler has revised the website. Revised Photo section outlining each members work is just one of the enhancements. www.corridorturners.org

Our BFTV Christmas Tree Project brought $150.00 to Camp Courageous this year. Thank you for your donation of ornaments. There were 40+ turned ornaments and 50+ scroll saw ornaments from the Corridor WoodCrafters.

The Next CWT Board Meeting is January 17, 2013. Please keep in mind, March 2013 brings the election of CWT Board of Directors and Officers. If you interested in being an Officer or Board of Directors position on the CWT, please contact me or any of the Board Members to discuss your interest. The CWT exists because of you. Your interest, input and desire to enhance the club is welcome.

If you are aware of program possibilities or presenters, please do not hesitate to forward the information to one of the CWT Board Members.

As Always - Happy Turning

He said the owner of the store (who resides in Muscatine), has decided to liquidate and close the store by the end of March. Apparently the store has been for sale for a number of months but no interest was generated and thus the decision to liquidate.

Josh assured us the Gift Cards purchased and given away at the Christmas Party are indeed good! They can be redeemed at ANY True Value Hardware Store not just BFTV.

Please inform the members of the CWT and CWC club that the BFTV Gift Cards are valid.

BFTV Tree Project

The tree project at Blairs Ferry True Value brought in $150.00 for Camp Courageous.

Personal Challenge for 2013

Remember to get signed up for the personal challenge for 2013. This is a project or technique that you have never done and would like to do. It is something that you will not have shown at a club meeting prior to the Picnic in September. You must be signed up with your project or technique listed to be eligible for the grand prize.

New Chairs

Due to stability issues with the plastic folding chairs, and the possibility of an injury due to a collapse, the board has decided to purchase new chairs. The old plastic folding chairs will be made available for $1.00 each to any member - no liability for injury implied. The metal folding chairs have had some reliability problems too and will be offered to the membership for $4.00 each or 4 for $12.00 with the same terms. If you want any of the chairs, bring your money to the January meeting. Any chairs that are left will go Re-Store.
